The Brief

Street photography can be interpreted in a number of ways.

Pictures:

- of people and everyday life in the street and public spaces;
- elevating the commonplace and familiar into something mythical and even heroic;
- seeing the street as a theatre of endless possibilities; and
- holding up a mirror to the kind of societies we are making for ourselves.

The realms of street photography can include streets, shopping centres, parks, bars, museums, public transport, coastal promenades and piers and so on.

Signs and Text

The image shows a bus stop shelter with a temporary closure sign. The sign is yellow with a red header and a blue footer. The header reads "Temporary Stop Closure" with a warning icon. The main text is in black and white, stating that the Cambridge City Crematorium bus stop along A14 has reopened and that passengers should board the Citi 5 from Emmanuel Street stop E4. The footer contains the Stagecoach logo, "in Cambridge", and contact information: "@Stagecoach_East", "01223 433250", and "www.stagecoachbus.com".
